THE AUTHOR'S PREFACE

Pride of ancestry and love of genealogy are worthy traits of any civilization. They foster a spirit that develops the best to be found in the human soul. Savages are ignorant of pedigrees, and are without lineage. We must turn to the enlightened of humanity for a record of the earth's activity and a history of her people.

But a genealogy treats of but one branch of her many people. In this volume, the author desires to enroll the several branches of the Diehl families of this country, in an accurate and permanent manner. In compiling this work, I have found Diehls in nearly every state of the Union. The original ones almost invariably came from various sections of the Vaterland. To assemble data from such a large scope of widely situated locations is no easy task. Most of it must be done by mail — by patient and persistent correspondence.

Old family Bibles of other centuries were hunted for records, assessment rolls dug out of the dust, inscriptions of names and dates from the mountain slabs of century-old cemeteries copied, ancient court house records transcribed, the archives of Historical Societies and State Departments ransacked, and the oldest living representative of his community consulted, that this enterprise might succeed. To each and every one, from ocean to ocean, who has in any manner contributed to this success, I am under the most lasting obligation. Valuable and repeated assistance came from Mr. U. G. Diehl, Everett, Pennsylvania, (son of Ex-Sheriff Diehl); Mr. E. F. Diehl, Leesburg, Indiana; Mrs. Catharine L. Pennell, Loys-burg, Pennsylvania; Henry Diehl, Bedford, Pennsylvania; Rev. D. N. Dittmar, Mam's Choice, Pennsylvania; Hon. Geo. C. Diehl, Buffalo, New York; George H. Diehl, Mowrystown, Ohio; Rev. S. A. Diehl, A.M., Hanover, Pennsylvania, and a score of others, for which I am grateful.

From Judge Hall's sixty-page pamphlet of the Diehls, issued in 1891; the "Smouse Families of America"; the "House of Cessna," by H. L. Cessna, Esq., Rainsburg, Pennsylvania; and a voluminous History of Cumberland and Adams Counties, Pennsylvania, I obtained help for which credit is due here.

Our work is done, but the volume is incomplete for the lack of data in genealogy, history, and absent names, to the number of many hundreds of instances. It can be made complete only when all the present living generation is genealogically enrolled, with the occupation and postoffice address of each family, the civic, religious and fraternal affiliations of each member and the dates of births, marriages and leading events systematically arranged, so as to make a large, handsome volume that every loyal Diehl would be proud to add to his library or reading table.

With the firm hope of it meriting the appreciation of many friends, we send this volume on.

E. H. DIEHL.

Samuel Diehl and Descendants.

I.

In the pioneer days of the early colonists, very little attention was given to history or geneology. Daily physical necessities and protection from the natural elements of the climate and the deceitful treachery of savages, engaged their constant efforts. But civilization and enlightenment have advanced; and we are all now more or less prone to pry into the dim vistas of the past. It is unfortunate that so little record of the earlier Diehl ancestry is at hand. But let us preserve to all future generations the history we do have.

SAMUEL DIEHL, progenitor of one of the prominent branches of the numerous Diehl families in America, was born in 1740, and resided in Loudon County, Virginia, where most of his children were born, quite a number of years. His wife was a Miss Ritchey. He did service for the Colonies as a soldier in the Revolutionary War. In 1784 he and his family, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ritchey, and Philip Diehl and George Diehl, came up into Bedford County, Pennsylvania, and settled in Friend's Cove. Samuel and Philip soon became owners of good sized farms. George operated a distillery several years. Eventually the latter two disappeared from the county, leaving no known record of their destiny or descendants. Samuel stuck to the soil, as have thousands of his industrious progeny in the generations since. He died on his old home farm near Ott's Mill, in 1828, and is buried in the old grave yard on the Bowser farm, now owned by William Beegle.

Issue: 1. John (Feb. 12, 1768–Aug. 14, 1842). 2. Solomon (Feb. 18, 1772–May 15, 1851). 3. Adam (Nov. 15, 1779–June 6, 1833). 4. Philip. 5. Daniel. 6. Samuel. 7. Christena. 8. Eva. 9. Rebecca.

II.

SAMUEL (I), JOHN (II).

(I). JOHN DIEHL was born in Loudon County, Virginia, Feb. 12, 1768, and came with his parents to Bedford County, Pennsylvania, in 1783. On Aug. 20, 1791, he married Anna Mary Harclerode, who was born July 16, 1773, and died Nov. 9, 1857. Mr. Diehl died on the old homestead, Aug. 14, 1842, and both are buried near the Old Brick Church where several generations await the final resurrection.

SAMUEL (I), JOHN (II), SOLOMON (SWAMP SOL (III)),
HENRY P. (IV).

I. HENRY P. DIEHL was born in Friend's Cove, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, July 12, 1825, and is possibly the oldest Diehl in this section at this time. He taught the Swamp School, near his home, where he has always lived, five successive years. Nov. 22, 1849, he united in marriage with Martha J. Smith, who was born in the Cove, July 27, 1831, Rev. Matthew Irvine officiating. He was extensively identified with the agricultural, financial, political, social, and religious interests of the community. As school director, auditor, and Democratic county committeeman, he served many years. He has been an earnest worker in the Reformed Church three-quarters of a century, serving most of that time either deacon or elder and serving a number of years as teacher and superintendent of the Sunday school. He has represented the church in her higher ecclesiastic judiciaries. He help organize the Friend's Cove Mutual County Fire Insurance Company and was its president for seventeen years.

Few men of his age are so well preserved physically and mentally as Mr. Diehl. He is interesting and entertaining in conversation and is president of the Diehl Annual Reunion. Mrs. Diehl died May 11, 1892.

SAMUEL (I), JOHN (II), JOHN (III), CATHARINE (IV).

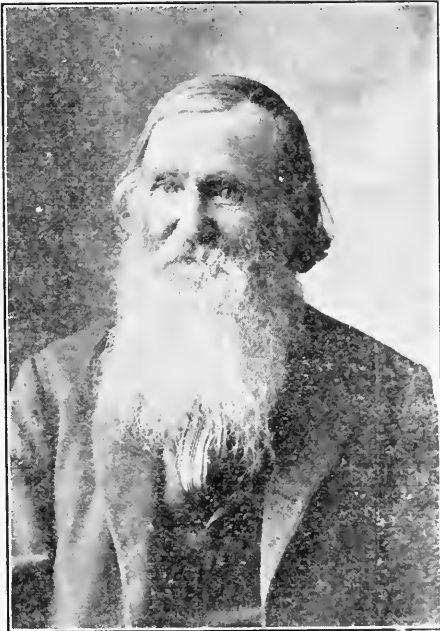

I. CATHARINE DIEHL was born in Friend's Cove, Pennsylvania, March 6, 1820, and died at Loysburg, Pennsylvania, Dec. 17, 1890. She was married to John Dittmar, a saddler and harness maker, of Loysburg, Feb. 10, 1848, Rev. Matthew Irvine officiating. Mr. Dittmar was born May 17, 1819 at Oberorschutz Fritzlar, in Kurhessen, Germany, and came to this country to escape military service in the fatherland, in 1835. He was an earnest, faithful worker in the church from his youth, and loyally supported the Reformed Church during his long and useful career. With an unaffected but sincere piety, he was a genuine Christian, humility being one of his strong distinguishing characteristics. For nearly two generations he furnished the whole countryside for miles around with good home-made harness and saddles before the advent of the present day factories. Two of his sons, Revs. David Nevin and Henry Franklin, were honored and efficient ministers of the Reformed Church. A daughter, Anna L., occupied the position of Matron in a Presbyterian College for Women at Charlotte, South Carolina, from 1898 to 1904.

His death occurred Oct. 5, 1891.

Issue:

1. David Nevin, Jan. 16, 1849.

2. Mary Elizabeth, June 3, 1850.
 3. Catharine Louise, June 17, 1852.
 4. John (Feb. 19–Feb. 24, 1854).
 5. Calvin Wenner, July 11, 1856.
 6. Reuben (July 13, 1857–Aug. 11, 1857).
 7. Harriet (July 13, 1857–Aug. 11, 1857).
 8. Anna L., Nov. 24, 1859.
 9. Henry Franklin (Sept. 11, 1863–June 4, 1905)

L. H. DIEHL, ASTORIA, ILLINOIS.

II. LEVI HENRY DIEHL (Nov. 28, 1821–May 28, 1906) and Harriet Whetstone (June 4, 1824–March 6, 1907), daughter of Jacob and Agnes Whetstone, natives of Bedford County, Pennsylvania, were married by Rev. George Liedy, in Friend's Cove, near Bedford, Pennsylvania, June 12, 1845.

In 1840 Mr. Diehl assisted John May, a prominent merchant and farmer, of Rainsburg, Pennsylvania, as an all round clerk in the store, postoffice, and on the large farm. These were the days before postage stamps, when a mileage rate was charged on each letter, and the mails were carried over mountain roads on horse-back or by stage-coach, between towns and villages. He also taught rural school a few years, and conducted evening singing school at school houses. He farmed a couple of years east of Everett, near M'Graw's Crossing. Later he purchased 400 acres iron ore land between Hopewell and Bloody Run (now Everett) which he improved, and it was afterwards known as the Half-Way House, now owned by John Greenawalt. He was a stockholder and helped build the Bloody Run and Hopewell Plankroad in 1857, which afterward went into the hands of a receiver as an unprofitable venture. In connection with clearing, burning lime, building, and farming, he engaged considerably in the lumber business, a couple of years in partnership with J. B. Harris and J. B. Williams. Here he was secretary of the township school board and successfully helped establish our free school system.

In 1863 he exchanged this farm for 280 acres in southwest Iowa, and moved to Snake Spring Valley, on the old Ritchey farm, which was his home two years. In 1865 he sold this (known as the Stone House property) and took his family west, taking possession of a farm which afterward grew to a half section, near Sumnum, Illinois. Here he helped build the first church in that community, under the pastorate of Rev. George Weber. He was a life-long member of the Reformed Church; a liberal supporter of her institutions, and a Sunday school worker for three-quarters of a century. As a delegate he represented the church at many of its classical and synodical meetings.

As a master of Woodland Grange, he was a strong factor in the Patron of Husbandry movement here forty years ago. He was an active member of the Masonic fraternity, in politics a Republican always, and with Mrs. Diehl belonged to the Order Eastern Star. In 1886 they retired from the active duties of the farm to a home in Astoria, Illinois, where some twenty years later they both, within the space of a few months, obeyed that final summons that comes to all.

Issue:

1. William John Nevin (Oct. 17, 1846–Feb. 2, 1847).
 2. Elias Henry, May 17, 1848.

 9. Levi Henry (April 22, 1862–1875).
 10. Ida Grace (July 16, 1864–Oct. 6, 1890).

IV. DAVID DIEHL (April 13, 1825–April 16, 1907) lived all his long and useful life in Friend's Cove, except four years which he lived in Bedford, Pennsylvania, when he was sheriff. He was elected to that office on the Republican ticket in 1884, by an overwhelming majority, at a time when the party was in the minority. His deputies were M. I. Diehl and William Eiholtz. He was a consistent member of the Reformed Church, serving a long number of years in the consistory, either as elder or deacon. He was a charter member of Rainsburg Lodge, I. O. O. F., which he represented at the Grand Lodge several times. He also was a member of the Encampment at Bedford. On Sept. 5, 1850, he was united in marriage to Eve Anna Ritchey (Feb. 8, 1826–Aug. 3, 1892) of Bedford township, to whom the following children were born:

1. John Ritchey, July 22, 1851.
2. Matthew Irvin (Aug. 28, 1853–Nov. 19, 1912).
3. Mary Olive (Sept. 28, 1855–Nov. 12, 1908).
4. Emma Susan (Oct. 12, 1858–Aug. 22, 1862).
5. Margaret Elizabeth, Jan. 8, 1862.
6. Samuel Hughes (July 11, 1863–Oct. 16, 1885).
7. Ulysses Grant, March 5, 1866.

EX-SHERIFF DAVID DIEHL, BEDFORD, PENNSYLVANIA.

V. JOHN DIEHL (March 10, 1827–April 22, 1914) of Friend's Cove, and Mary A. Ritchey (April 17, 1831–Aug. 10, 1894), of Bedford township, Pennsylvania, were married at the Reformed Church parsonage, Bedford, Pennsylvania, on St. John's Day, June, 1850, by Rev. Henry Heckerman, the ceremony being witnessed by the Hon. John Cessna and wife. He was a most genial man and usually had a good word for every one he met. He helped build the First Reformed Church at Mamms Choice and was an efficient deacon for many years. In his earlier manhood days, when there was a demand for barrels in which to ship flour from the home mills to the leading markets, he followed the cooper trade. Later he turned his attention to farming, which he followed until he retired from the active duties of life. Of eight brothers he was the last survivor.

Issue :

1. William Watson, Jan. 24, 1853.
2. Mary Magdalene (Sept. 12, 1854–March 8, 1912).
3. Benjamin Franklin, Feb. 3, 1857.
4. David Nevin, Oct. 15, 1859.
5. Elizabeth, Jan. 14, 1860.
6. Blanch Evet, Sept. 17, 1863.
7. Jennie, Feb. 3, 1865.
8. Howard, April 15, 1868.
9. Eve Ettie (Aug. 11, 1869–Jan. 23, 1886).
10. Bruce (April 13, 1873–June 7, 1874).

VI. JOEL DIEHL was born near the Brick Church in Friend's Cove, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, March 11, 1829, and as soon as old enough learned the cooper's trade. He followed making barrels for several years, most of the time for Hartley's Flour Mill, at Willow Grove, east of Bedford. In those days all the wheat not used for seed was ground in the home mills, located along every mountain stream, and the flour not consumed at home went to the great markets in new barrels. Consequently the cooper shop was an annex of the flour mill.

He married Elizabeth Anne Overaker of that community. In 1864 they removed to Lacross, Wisconsin, where he was connected with a prominent lumber company many years. Five of the children graduated from the high school and the boys all have prominent positions.

Mr. Diehl's death occurred Dec. 20, 1891.

Issue: 1. Reuben Franklin. 2. Ellen Frances. 3. John William B. 4. Minnie Gertrude. 5. Charles Henry. 6. George Edward (deceased).

VII. JOSHUA DIEHL (March 7, 1831–April 15, 1862), of Friend's Cove, Pa., in his youth developed a remarkable ability to do more than one thing, and do it well. He first learned to be a saddle and harness maker under the instruction of his brother-in-law, John Dittmar, and soon became an adept as a workman. He then followed daguerreotyping a couple of years at the time when photography was just making its appearance. In the late '50's he went to western Ohio and engaged in the nursery business, which he followed until the breaking out of the Civil Rebellion. Sept. 14, 1861, he enlisted in the 8th Ohio Cavalry, Troop 4, and on account of his skill as a saddler, was elected to the position of Saddle Boss. In a skirmish near Murfreesboro, Tennessee, in scaling a deep ravine, his horse fell, injuring him so that he lived only a few days. His remains lie in the National Cemetery at Murfreesboro, Tennessee.

VIII. ELIAS S. DIEHL was born in Friend's Cove, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, March 6, 1833. After a term at the Rainsburg Seminary, he taught school a few years in winter, while farming in summer. The author of this volume was one of his pupils at the John's Branch and Piper Run schools, in Hopewell township. Nov. 25, 1858, he married Mary Weisel, of Bedford, Pennsylvania, who was born at that place Sept. 4, 1835, Rev. Henry Heckerman, of the Reformed Church, officiating at the wedding. He farmed three years at the Halfway farm on the Plank Road, north of Tatesville, then moved to Snake Spring Valley, on the Weisel farm, where he died Nov. 12, 1865. They were active and loyal members of the Reformed Church.

SAMUEL J. DIEHL AND COMRADE.

X. SAMUEL J. DIEHL was born on a farm in Friend's Cove, Pennsylvania, June 3, 1840. While a student at the Rainsburg, Pennsylvania, Seminary, he enlisted, Oct. 12, 1861, in Co. D, 55th Pennsylvania Volunteers, under Captain S. S. Metzger. In the battle of Rocklego, South Carolina, he was wounded in one knee, which disabled him a couple of months. After his three years service he re-enlisted in the same company and remained in the army until the close of the war. August 30, 1865, he was honorably discharged, when he returned to his old home and assisted on the farm. In October, 1866, he went to Mercer County, Ohio. Here he married (1) Susan Riley, to which union was born one child, Myrtle. Divorced from her, he married (2) Elnor Temple.

Issue:

They lived on a farm until 1899, when they moved to Ohio City, and later to VanWert, Ohio. He was a member of the G. A. R., and with his wife and daughter, members of the First Evangelical Church of VanWert. After a week of intense suffering at the Soldiers' Home in Dayton, he died April 13, 1914, and was buried on the 17th at VanWert, Ohio, the funeral in charge of the G. A. R. and the ministers of the Evangelical and U. B. churches.

X. HARRIET DIEHL was born near the Brick Church in Colerain Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, March 16, 1847, and married John Lee, who was born at Buffalo Mills, March 19, 1846. He followed fence-making, house-building and cabinet-making. He enlisted at Rainsburg, Pennsylvania, March 16, 1864, as a Corporal of Company A, 184th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, and was mustered out at Washington, D. C., July 14, 1865. At Cold Harbor, Virginia, he was shot through the right hand and in the left side, which disabled him from active service only a few weeks. After his discharge he followed farming successfully at Saxton, near Bedford, and at Chaneysville. After the death of Mrs. Lee, which occurred Aug. 5, 1897, he married Mary M. Dibert, of Bedford, Pennsylvania, Feb. 12, 1899, Rev. J. W. Lingle officiating. They are comfortably situated in a new and up-to-date residence in Bedford, Pennsylvania, and have a Diehl relic of a rocking chair that has seen service 120 years. To the first marital union were born:

1. Clayton C. (April 9, 1871).

REV. D. N. DITTMAR, MANN'S CHOICE, PENNSYLVANIA.

—:O:—

SAMUEL (I), JOHN (II), JOHN (III), CATHARINE (IV), DAVID NEVIN (V).

I. REV. DAVID NEVIN DITTMAR was born at Pattonville, later named Loysburg, Pennsylvania, Jan. 16, 1849. During the winter of 1861-2 he was assistant teacher in the Woodbury school—possibly the youngest school teacher in all that country. The next four years he spent attending school and teaching alternately. In 1866 he prepared to enter college at Mercersburg, Pennsylvania, where he remained until the end of the Sophomore year, in 1869. In September of that year he entered the Junior class of Franklin & Marshall College, and graduated in 1871. Then he taught one year in the Collegiate Institute at Martinsburg, Pennsylvania. In 1872 he entered the Theological Seminary at Lancaster, Pennsylvania, from whence he graduated in 1875. He immediately entered the ministry of the Reformed Church, which he has served faithfully and successfully nearly forty years. His pastorates embraced St. Clairsville, Pennsylvania, 1875 to 1881; Littlestown, Pennsylvania, 1881 to 1891; Greensburg, Pennsylvania, 1891 to 1895; Ft. Washington, Pennsylvania, 1895 to 1901; Jefferson, Maryland, 1905 to 1909; Hyndman, Pennsylvania, 1909 to Oct. 1, 1913. Over four years between the Ft. Washington and Jefferson pastorates he was Field Secretary of the Reformed Church Home Mission Board. At present he is President of Somerset Classis. As a public speaker, he is pleasing, entertaining and instructive. Owing to a throat trouble, he has reluctantly retired from the active work of the ministry. At college, he was an active member of a Greek Letter fraternity, and is a member of the Masonic fraternity. At present he is located at Mann's Choice, Pennsylvania, and frequently assists his ministerial brethren from the pulpit.

II. MARY ELIZABETH DITTMAR was born at Loysburg, Pennsylvania, June 3, 1850. On Dec. 22, 1870, she was united in marriage with Wm. H. Dull, (May 14, 1847–June 9, 1886) who was a harness maker, and proprietor of the business several years at New Enterprise, Pennsylvania.

Issue:

1. Annie Bertha, Sept. 22, 1871.
2. Ida May, Dec. 16, 1873.
3. Mary Catherine, Feb. 21, 1876.

6. Maggie Beulah, April 21, 1883.
7. Wilmetta Helmith (June 10, 1886–April 4, 1887).

Mrs. Dull is a resident of Loysburg, near the site of her birthplace.

III. CATHARINE LOUISE DITTMAR was born at Loysburg, Pennsylvania, June 18, 1852, and on Jan. 30, 1872, was united in marriage to George W. Pennell, who was born in Black Valley, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, Oct. 19, 1845. Mr. Pennell learned the carriage making trade at Rainsburg, Pennsylvania, nearly fifty years ago, and since then has followed it successfully at Loysburg, all these long years. After marriage they established a new home in sight of the old Dittmar homestead, where they have ever since lived, and where their fourteen children were born, thirteen of whom have passed through the schools, united with the church of their parents, gone out into the world, into honorable positions to do the world's work, in various parts of the Union.

Issue:

1. Walter C., Aug. 9, 1873.

12. James Lawrence;
13. Mabel Florence—twins, Feb. 26, 1896.
14. Virgil Carl, May 8, 1898.

IV. CALVIN WENNER DITTMAR was born in Loysburg, Pennsylvania, July 11, 1856. He attended the village school and learned harness and saddle making in his father's shop, and finally was proprietor of the business several years after his father retired. On Dec. 6, 1893, he married Elizabeth Booth Schnebly of Hagerstown, Maryland, Rev. Barton R. Carnahan officiating. He is now proprietor of the Union Hotel, in his native town. He is a Democrat, and a loyal member of the Reformed Church.

Issue:

1. John Schnebly, Jan. 7, 1896.
2. David D., (Oct. 31, 1897–Nov. 24, 1901).
3. Earl Updegraff (May 16, 1899–Oct. 25, 1899).
4. Frederick A. Rupley, April 16, 1901.

V. ANNA L. DITTMAR was born at Loysburg, Pennsylvania, Nov. 24, 1859, and after passing through the village school, attended the Juniata Collegiate Institute, at Martinsburg, Pa., two years, in 1878 and 1879. She occupied the position of matron in the Presbyterian College for Women, at Charlotte, N. C., from 1898 to 1904. Sept. 4, 1913, she was married to Uriah May, of Mann's Choice, where they are very comfortably located, and greatly interested in fruit growing and farming.

REV. H. F. DITTMAR, JEFFERSON, MARYLAND.

VI. REV. HENRY FRANKLIN DITTMAR was born at Loysburg, Pennsylvania, Sept. 11, 1863. His earlier education was obtained in the public schools of his native town. He graduated from Franklin & Marshall College, at Lancaster, Pennsylvania, in June, 1887, and from the Theological Seminary in May, 1890. After being examined and licensed to the Gospel Ministry by Juniata Classis, he was ordained pastor of the Reformed Church at Jefferson, Maryland, by Revs. E. R. Eshbach, D.D., T. E. Hoffmeier, S. L. Whitmore, S. S. Miller, and H. W. Hoffmeier, June 22, 1890. He was a good preacher, and an excellent pastor. Above all, he was a true friend, frank and fearless, yet tender and kind. He never hesitated to tell one of his faults as he saw them. He was, however, equally careful to speak of one's excellencies. In consequence, he secured and held in an unusual degree the devotion of members and friends. He married Maud Waters, of Baltimore, Maryland, Oct. 24, 1894, to whom one daughter was born, Mary Nevin, Jan. 28, 1896. He was a member of the Order of American Mechanics, of Jefferson, and of Lynch Lodge of Masons, at Frederick, Maryland. After an illness of some months, he died June 4, 1905, and was buried in the Jefferson cemetery, among the people he loved so well, and among whom he labored so faithfully for fifteen years. At the grave the Masonic rites were used, under the direction of Senator Jacob Rohrbach and Rev. J. R. Lewis, and just as the sun was setting the benediction was announced, and he was left there with his Father, God, to await the resurrection.

SAMUEL (I), JOHN (II), JOHN (III), LEVI HENRY (IV), ELIAS HENRY (V).

I. ELIAS HENRY DIEHL was born near Bloody Run, now Everett, Pennsylvania, May 17, 1848. In April, 1865, he accompanied his parents and family to central Illinois, near Ipava.

After an attendance of two to five months each winter school term, some nine years, he enrolled as a teacher, and followed teaching twenty-six years. In 1873-5 he was teacher and farm manager, two years, of St. Paul's Orphan Home, at Butler, Pennsylvania, later removed to Greensburg, Pennsylvania. In 1876 he was editor and proprietor of The Independent, Blainstown, Iowa, nearly a year. Between intervals of teaching he either worked on a farm or was a student at school. In the summers of 1881-2 he took the Teachers' Training Course at Valparaiso, Indiana, University. August 1, 1883, he married Mary Josephine Stoneberger, who was born at Astoria, Illinois, Sept. 8, 1862, the daughter of Rev. John Stoneberger, a graduate of Lane Seminary, at Cincinnati, Ohio, under the tuition of Dr. Lyman Beecher and C. E. Stowe, et al., in 1846, and pastor of the Reformed Church at Astoria until his death, Dec. 8, 1865. He was author of the "Church Members' Manual," a 400-page volume, published at Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, by M. Kieffer & Co. In 1885 Mr. Diehl began a new home on 200 acres, south of Ipava, near the Whealdon, where they are comfortably located. With his first farming he taught school ten winters—five in one district. He was clerk of the Whealdon school board eighteen years, and Mrs. Diehl six years. He was township

SAMUEL (I), JOHN (II), JOHN (III), ELIAS S. (IV), WILLIAM HENRY (V).

I. WILLIAM HENRY DIEHL was born at the Halfway House, between Everett and Hopewell, Pennsylvania, Aug. 25, 1859. Most of his school day life was spent at Loysburg, Pennsylvania. In 1882 he married Mary Shoultee, of Augusta, Iowa, and immediately moved to Fremont, Nebraska. To them these children were born:

1. Myrtle. 2. Howard. 3. Orlo, 1889.

The first two children died of membranous croup in 1888. In 1892 the father died, and the mother and Orlo returned to her former home in southeast Iowa. In 1896 a thirteen-year-old youth induced Orlo, who was only seven, to go into Skunk river, bathing. The child got beyond its depth and was drowned. The cowardly youth did not inform the friends of the child's fate until many hours of fruitless search in village and field were made. Several days afterward the remains were found in its watery grave.

II. VIRGINIA BELLE DIEHL was born at the Halfway House, between Everett and Hopewell, Pennsylvania, Sept. 2, 1860. Most of her girlhood days were spent at Loysburg, Pennsylvania. After the death of her father, in 1865, her mother married Samuel Nicodemus. She was united in marriage to John Russell, of Jonesboro, Tennessee, by Rev. J. W. Love, D.D., at Kansas City, Missouri, Dec. 8, 1898. They spent the winter in southern California, then returned to Berryville, Virginia, and engaged in the furniture business. Later, they took charge of the best hotel in Jonesboro, Tennessee, which they successfully managed several years. Mr. Russell had an extensive experience as traveling salesman for a St. Louis steel range company several years. He was also a soldier in the Southern Confederacy during the entire war.

John Adam Diehl and Issue.

I.

JOHN ADAM DIEHL was born in Wurtemberg, Germany, in 1700, and brought his family to America in 1731, settling near York, Pennsylvania, when it was but a hamlet. He purchased of an English agent a timber tract of three hundred sixty acres for £12 (Sterling), and converted it into a productive and valuable farm. Loyal to his religious profession, he helped establish the first Lutheran church in that section. His descendants as a rule are noted for their industry, enterprise and thrift. They are usually found on the moral side of every great issue. As farmers, mechanics, merchants, and in transportation, commerce, the several learned professions, and all other useful avocations in life, they are exemplary citizens.

In 1735 Mr. Diehl built a flouring mill on a branch of Codorus Creek, a mile from the present York city limit. It was successfully operated by generations of Diehls 145 years, when it was sold to Samuel Hively & Sons for $3,000. It has been improved recently by the addition of $3,500 worth of new machinery and repairs. It is one of the many old landmarks of this section.

JOHN ADAM (I), PETER (II).

I. PETER DIEHL, born 1728, at Wurttemberg, Germany, came with his parents to a farm near York, Pennsylvania, in 1731. In 1748, he married and settled on the old homestead, which he purchased after his father's death.

Issue: 1. Peter (Aug. 8, 1761–Aug. 11, 1839). 2. Nicholas. 3. Jacob. 4. Daniel. 5. Elizabeth. 6. Catharine.

II. DANIEL DIEHL was born in Germany, probably in 1730. He settled in Seven Valleys, York County, Pennsylvania.

III. GEORGE DIEHL was doubtless the first born in America. At maturity he settled in Virginia.

IV. NICHOLAS DIEHL, born near York, Pennsylvania, about 1736, came into possession of the old homestead with his brother Peter, by purchase from the heirs.

(It was impossible to secure a complete data of this generation.)

JOHN ADAM (I), PETER (II), PETER (III).

I. PETER DIEHL was born near York, Pennsylvania, Aug. 8, 1761, and died Aug. 11, 1839. He married (1) Miss Krantz, of York, Pennsylvania, at Pine's Church, Oxford, in 1789. She died in 1806. To this union the following children were born, in Hellam township, York County, Pennsylvania:

1. Elizabeth, 1790.
2. Daniel (Aug. 20, 1791–Aug. 1, 1863).
3. George (1795–1870).
4. Sarah (1798–1881).
5. Mary (1801–1882).

6. Susan (1803-18—).

7. Jacob (1805-1871).

About the year 1805 the family moved to the southern part of Adams County, and settled near New Oxford, Pennsylvania, where Mr. Diehl purchased a large tract of several hundred acres of choice land extending along the Gettysburg Turnpike, and reaching from the village to the bank of the Little Conowago. A small grist mill was included in this purchase, which was later remodeled and greatly improved by Peter Diehl, the new owner. In those days banking was in its infancy, and commercial credit, as now conducted, but little used in the rural districts. The good old gold and silver were usually kept in a chest, or in an old stocking, or in a jar under the bed, or stuck out of sight in crevices and secure places in the walls. In paying for this good property, Mr. Diehl put a half bushel of silver into a leather saddle-bag, placed it on a faithful horse, mounted and rode southwest from the old home near York to the new one, at New Oxford, Pennsylvania. At the end of the long and tedious trip, the horse was found to be chafed and blistered raw from the weight and friction of the heavy coin.

The mill, which has been known as "Diehl's Mill" for over a century, was destroyed by fire in 1857, but was rebuilt and greatly enlarged and improved in every way, the next year. It is a commodious four and a half story stone and brick structure. By inheritance and purchase, this property descended to three sons. Daniel got the mill with its adjoining fifteen acres. The farm was divided, and became the property of George and Jacob Diehl.

In 1808 Peter Diehl married (2) Mrs. Catharine Carl, widow of George Carl.

I. DANIEL DIEHL was born Aug. 20, 1791, in the old mill property, near York, Pennsylvania, and in his early teens moved with his father's family to New Oxford, Pennsylvania. Here, Oct. 26, 1809, he married (1) Elizabeth Carl, who was born April 26, 1794, in that section, and died Sept. 19, 1833. In the settlement of his father's estate, Daniel became the owner of Diehl's Mill there, and fifteen acres of adjoining land. He also operated a saw mill near by, several years. Later he purchased and occupied a large farm and rented the mill. His death occurred Aug. 1, 1863.

SUSANAH (V).

I. SUSANAH DIEHL was born near New Oxford, Pennsylvania, Oct. 30, 1810, and married Abraham Rife, to whom one child was born, now deceased. Mrs. Rife's death occurred April 20, 1834. Mr. Rife was a farmer, and they were members of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, in Hanover, Pennsylvania.

II. GEORGE W. DIEHL was born on the old homestead at Diehl's Mill, near New Oxford, Pennsylvania, July 23, 1818, and in 1840 married (1) Susanna Emig, to whom the following daughters were born:

1. Leah E., deceased.
2. Sarah E.
3. Amanda, deceased.

Mrs. Diehl's death occurring in 1854, Mr. Diehl married (2) Sarah Emig, a cousin of his first wife. To them John M. was born, who died in infancy. The mother of this boy died in 1883, and the father, May 5, 1885, leaving one daughter, Sarah E. Diehl, the only surviving heir, who now resides at East Berlin, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Diehl was one of the substantial citizens of his day, a useful member of society, esteemed and respected by all.

III. CATHARINE ANN DIEHL was born near New Oxford, Pennsylvania, Feb. 6, 1820, and married George Schaeffer, who was born in Carroll County, Maryland, Oct. 8, 1811, on Nov. 17, 1836, Rev. Jacob Albert, of Hanover, Pennsylvania, officiating. They were faithful members of Krider's Lutheran Church. Mr. Schaeffer operated a tannery and a large farm successfully, near Westminster, Maryland, and later was interested in banking business. After a happy and useful life, Mrs. Schaeffer died, Feb. 13, 1888.

They resided at New Oxford until after their first two children were born, when they moved to New Midway, Maryland. Here Mr. Butt died, Dec. 11, 1889, and Mrs. Butt July 27, 1892. They were Lutherans and farmers. Their grandson, Cameron, was one of the civil engineers at the Panama Canal.

Issue:

1. Emma C. (Nov. 14, 1849–Nov. 2, 1871).
 2. Milton D., Dec. 28, 1850.
 3. Ida E., Dec. 22, 1860.

IX. JESSE DIEHL (June 8, 1829–March 8, 1908) was a progressive, industrious, and successful farmer, who was born near New Oxford, Pennsylvania. He married Susannah Hersh, daughter of John Hersh, a farmer, near Heidlersburg, Pennsylvania. Mr. Diehl was drafted into the Union Army during the Rebellion, and made an excellent soldier, noted especially for his kindness to his weaker comrades, helping to carry their burdens, for which he was kindly remembered when he passed over to the great majority. He was also a faithful soldier of the Lord, in the Lutheran Church, at New Oxford.

Issue:

1. Annie Elizabeth, Nov. 10, 1861.

X. CARL FRANCIS DIEHL was born at New Oxford, Pennsylvania, March 8, 1831. He prepared himself in the profession of teaching, which he followed many years, chiefly in the high schools of Illinois. On March 22, 1852, he married Amanda Dewey, daughter of Dr. Sanford Smith Dewey, of Flintstone, Maryland. Her birth occurred Jan. 27, 1825, and her death at Martinez, California, Jan. 30, 1913. Prof. Diehl died at Martinez, California, Aug. 21, 1899. The children of this marriage were:

1. Mary Emma, Feb. 22, 1853.
 2. Charles Sanford, Aug. 8, 1854.
 3. Louisa Amanda; 4. Laura Apollonia (Jan. 10, 1855-1883).

 8. Minnie Frances, Sept. 8, 1865.

II. MARTIN LOHR DIEHL was born on the Old Homestead, near New Oxford, Pennsylvania, Sept. 19, 1833. When a young man he learned the tanner's trade. Later he and his cousin, Hamilton Diehl, built an up-to-date tannery on a mountain stream near Fairfield, Pennsylvania, which he successfully operated until his early death, Sept. 24, 1863. He married Mary Johann Chamberlin, of Franklin township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, May 10, 1855. To this union were born five children, near Fairfield, Pennsylvania.

Issue:

1. Sanford David Diehl, Dec. 17, 1856.
2. Ellen (Jan. 6, 1858-Jan. 20, 1858).
3. Mary Josephine, Feb. 26, 1859.

4. Abraham Lincoln, June 21, 1861, and died at La Fayette, Indiana, Nov. 1873.
 5. Rebecca Meade, July 17, 1863.

XII. JOSEPH RITNER DIEHL, named after one of the state's most efficient governors, was born June 3, 1838, near Diehl's Mill, near New Oxford, Pennsylvania. After his common school course he completed his studies at Dr. Pfeiffer's Academy, at New Oxford. In 1854 he clerked for W. D. & A. S. Hines, a year, and then three years for Aaron Heagy. After that he learned the miller's trade with his brother, George W. Diehl. In 1860 he returned to merchandising with Mr. Heagy. March 4, 1862, he married Catharine Slagle and began their domestic life in the old Diehl mansion, where he took charge of the mill near by. After the death of his father, in 1863, he purchased the mill, which he managed successfully for many years. They were members of the Lutheran Church, he being a member of the council twenty-five years. Mr. Diehl has been director and clerk of the school board many years. He was a Republican, and in 1884, as a candidate for county commissioner, was defeated by a small majority, in a strongly Democratic county. He was a useful and influential citizen. His death occurred Jan. 3, 1899.

The old mill, in the hands of the Diehls some one hundred ten years, still stands as a monument to the industry, enterprise, integrity, skill, and worthy effort of a noble race. It is an old landmark on the banks of the Conewago, facing the old Philadelphia and Pittsburg Turnpike, which is now the new trans-continental Lincoln Highway. From a small pioneer grist mill it has grown to the present five-story stone and brick structure, which we have the pleasure of illustrating, as the frontispiece of this work.

Accept these lines here, written by Prof. Louis Diehl, many years ago, and set to music:

WATER THAT HAS PASSED.

Listen to the water mill,
 Through the livelong day,
 How the clanking of the wheel
 Wears the hours away.
 Languidly the autumn wind
 Stirs the greenwood leaves;
 From the fields the reapers sing,
 Binding up the sheaves;
 And a proverb haunts my mind,
 As a spell is cast:
 "The mill will never grind
 With the water that has passed."

Take the lesson to thyself,
 Living heart and true,
 Golden years are fleeting by,
 Youth is passing, too;
 Learn to make the most of life,
 Lose no happy day;
 Time will never bring thee back
 Chances swept away.
 Leave no tender word unsaid,
 Love while life shall last—
 "The mill will never grind
 With the water that has passed."

Work while yet the daylight shines,
 Man of strength and will;
 Never does the streamlet glide
 Useless by the mill.
 Wait not till tomorrow's sun
 Beams upon the way;
 All that thou canst call thine own
 Lies in thy today;
 Power, intellect and health
 May not, cannot last;
 "The mill will never grind
 With the water that has passed."

Oh, the wasted hours of life
 That have drifted by;
 Oh, the good we might have done,
 Lost without a sigh;
 Love that we might once have saved

By a single word;
 Thoughts conceived, but never penned,
 Perishing unheard.
 Take the proverb to thine heart,
 Take! Oh, hold it fast!—
 "The mill will never grind
 With the water that has passed."

These children were born to Joseph R. and Catharine S. Diehl:

1. Charles Eli, Dec. 16, 1862.
2. Martin D., Nov. 3, 1865.
3. Alverta Leali, Feb. 28, 1870.
4. Ervin Joseph, May 18, 1877.

XIII. ELIJAH F. DIEHL, of Leesburg, Indiana, was born March 13, 1841, in the old homestead near New Oxford, Pennsylvania, in the picturesque regions of the Gettysburg country. The winter months of his young farm life, for a few years, were spent in the home school. Later he took a course in Dr. M. D. G. Pfeiffer's Collegiate Institute, giving him a broader and grander view of life. His ambitions led him westward, where the fertile soil and hospitable people of Kosciusko County, Indiana, arrested his attention. Here he industriously farmed in summer and taught school in winter—two of the noblest and most necessary professions. The western fever struck him again and landed him in northwest Missouri, near St. Joseph. Here he taught school and wrestled with the ague a winter. Leaving that miasmatic section he returned eastward again. In August, 1862, he enlisted in Co. B., 138th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, and served in the Army of the Potomac. But there were lasting attractions in Indiana. Sept. 19, 1867, he married Mary Annie Berst, who was born June 17, 1848, in Kosciusko County, Indiana, and whose paternal grandfather, Conrad Berst, was born at Strassburg, Germany, in 1779, and came to America in 1798. Her maternal ancestors were from England and Wales. Their descendants were worthy citizens, commanding the respect and confidence of those who knew them.

In politics, Mr. Diehl is a Republican, and has been township assessor and land appraiser three terms, or a dozen years, in succession. As a writer of the agricultural and political press, his articles are forceful, instructive, and pleasant. To the happy union of Mr. and Mrs. Diehl were born:

1. Willis Edwin (June 6, 1868–April 20, 1903).
2. Leah Huddah, Nov. 5, 1869.
3. Miriam Alice, Jan. 12, 1872.
4. Henry Albert, Oct. 29, 1873.
5. Mary (Mae) Sept. 2, 1875.
6. Laura Kate (May 8, 1878–Aug. 8, 1896).
7. Ruth.
8. Carl Sanford, Feb. 3, 1883.

XIV. LEAH EMALINE DIEHL was born near New Oxford, Pennsylvania, July 17, 1843, and united in marriage with Henry A. Weikert, Feb. 11, 1864. Her death occurred Feb. 11, 1911.

Issue:

1. Henry Diehl, Dec. 4, 1864.
2. Lizzie Leah, Feb. 21, 1867.
3. Miriam Alverta, Sept. 8, 1872.
4. Emory Oscar, Oct. 11, 1874.
5. Edith Cordilla, July 23, 1883.

XV. MIRIAM DIEHL was born Sept. 24, 1845, in the old homestead near New Oxford, Pennsylvania, and married Jacob Heltzel, June 4, 1871. He is one of eleven children of his parents, Daniel and Elizabeth (Voglesong) Heltzel, whose ancestry came from the Palatinate and from Germany. His life was made up of clerking, teaching, justice of the peace, census enumerator in 1880, and other official positions in his district. He is a manufacturer of exclusive children's shoes for the wholesale trade. They adhere strictly to the faith of the Reformed Church. Five of Mr. Heltzel's brothers were in the Union Army during the Civil War.

XVI. REV. SAMUEL ALBERT DIEHL A.M., the youngest of a family of twenty-one children, was born in the old homestead, at New Oxford, Pennsylvania, Nov. 13, 1847. He graduated from Pennsylvania College, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, in 1872, and from the Lutheran Theological Seminary of the same place, in 1875. In the same year he was ordained to the holy ministry by the West Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran Church, at Newville, Pennsylvania. Sept. 2, 1875, he united in marriage with Mary Jane Hamilton, daughter of William Hamilton, a farmer and grain merchant of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. Her brother, Calvin Hamilton, was a veteran of the Civil War, and served twenty years as superintendent of the National Cemetery at Gettysburg.

By his efficiency and energy as a preacher and pastor, Brother Diehl has made a splendid record in each of his five pastorates, during nearly forty years of faithful service for the Master. His first field was the Upper Franklin charge, in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, where the membership doubled and the benevolences tripled in ten and a quarter years. His second charge was composed of four churches, situated some five to fifteen miles of each other, at Woodsboro, Maryland. During his six and a quarter years service here, two new church edifices were erected, an old church debt liquidated, four hundred seventy-one new members added, and a new congregation organized with thirty-one charter members, at Walkersville, Maryland. His third pastorate was at Salem, Westminster, Maryland, which he served ten and a third years, and to which five hundred fifty-nine new members were added during his incumbency. Here, also, was erected a fine and commodious church by the "Leister" people, to accommodate the growing congregation of worshippers. At Bendersville, Pennsylvania, he served his fourth pastorate, seven and a half years. To this flourishing charge five hundred twenty-six were added. He is now faithfully and successfully serving his fifth charge, two congregations — one rural, and the other urban, at Hanover, Pennsylvania. He is president of the Hanover Ministerial Association, and has been president and secretary of various conferences, and served as a delegate to General Synod in 1889 and in 1909. An aggregate of two thousand fifty souls is the result of his ministerial and pastoral work, with the hope that they all in due time may be gathered into the Church Triumphant.

REV. S. A. DIEHL, A.M., HANOVER, PENNSYLVANIA.

VI. MILTON SCHLAEFFER was born on a farm near Westminster, Carroll County, Maryland, Nov. 21, 1853, and died Sept. 13, 1902. In the years 1886-7-8 and 1895 he was the efficient mayor of Westminster. In 1897 Governor Llownds appointed him school commissioner, and he was president of the Board. In 1898 he was postmaster, at the time of the inauguration of the rural mail delivery system, which was first tried out in Carroll County, and which proved a success mainly through his great knowledge of men and the topography of the county. At his funeral, A. W. Machen, of Buffalo, N. Y., said: "I am present not only because of the friendship that existed between us, but also as a representative of the Postoffice Department of the Government, where he was held in high esteem for his great service in connection with the rural free delivery system. The experiment of rural free delivery was made in Carroll County, and upon its success or failure depended the fate of the system. That it was a success is chiefly due to his knowledge of the country, his aptitude for handling men, and his wonderful executive ability. The Department knows and is grateful to him for this aid, and as a mark of appreciation for his great service, I am here as its representative."

He was married to Mary Susan Zacharias, who was born Nov. 24, 1857, to whom the following children were born:

1. Edna Eugenia, Feb. 4, 1879.
2. Cora May, May 28, 1881.
3. Alice Marie (April 20, 1888-Oct. 9, 1894).
4. Clarence Milton, Nov. 16, 1885.
5. Lela Catharine, July 8, 1890.
6. Lloyd Diehl, Oct. 10, 1895.

His activity, enterprise, and public spirit made him a most valuable citizen to his community. He was a Mason to the thirty-third degree, a member of Door to Virtue Lodge, Royal Arch, Maryland Commandery, Knights Templar, Baltimore, and Charity Lodge, Knights of Pythias. He was an active and energetic member of Grace Lutheran Church for many years. When their hallowed house of worship burned down some years ago, he and others, Phoenix-like, reared the present beautiful and commodious edifice over the ashes of the former one. He was a wonderfully cheerful and helpful friend to people in all conditions of life, if the life was at all honorable.

JOHN ADAM (I), PETER (II), PETER (III), DANIEL (IV), CARL FRANCIS (V), CHARLES SANFORD (IV).

I. COL. CHARLES SANFORD DIEHL, only son of Carl Francis and Amanda Dewey Diehl, was born at Flintstone, Maryland, Aug. 8, 1854. He was educated in the public schools at Ottawa and Wenona, Illinois. In The Index office at the latter place he learned the printer's trade. Sept. 9, 1879, he married Ellen Watson Chandler, daughter of Henry B. and Sarah Ellsworth Chandler, of Chicago.

He published "Our Boys" in Chicago, 1871 to 1873. From 1873 to 1883 he was on the staff of the Chicago Times, and acted as staff correspondent in the Custer Indian campaign in 1877; in the Nez Perce campaign in 1878, and in the Ilges Indian campaign against the Sioux on the upper Missouri, the winter of 1878-9. In 1883 he entered the service of the Associated Press, as day manager of the Chicago office, and was superintendent of the Pacific Coast Division from 1887 to 1893. From 1893 to 1911 he was assistant general manager, with headquarters at New York and Chicago. In 1899 he was general manager of the entire service, during the transition period, when the corporation was changed from Illinois to New York. During this long period he was in general charge of the finances and the handling of the news of this great service. He superintended the reporting of the Spanish-American War, having under his control five dispatch boats and a highly trained staff of writers.

In 1874 he organized the First Regiment of Illinois National Guards, and filled all the grades up from second lieutenant to lieutenant colonel.

In 1911, in company with H. L. Beach, also of the Associated Press, they purchased The Daily Light, the leading evening newspaper of the Southwest, at San Antonio, Texas.

JOHN ADAM (I), PETER (II), PETER (III), DANIEL (IV),
ELIJAH F. (V), LEAH HULDA (VI).

I. LEAH HULDA DIEHL was born near Leesburg, Indiana, Nov. 5, 1869. She was first married to John E. Wood, to whom one son, Elmer B. Wood, survives. By her second husband, Robert C. Smith—now deceased—she has two daughters, Elizabeth, age seven, and Leah Hulda, who is five years old. They lived at Warsaw, Indiana; but later located at Alhambra, California.

II. MIRIAM ALICE DIEHL was born near Leesburg, Indiana, Jan. 12, 1872, and prepared herself for the office and duties of Deaconess in the Methodist Episcopal Church. After serving several years in that capacity, in Chicago, her health was impaired to such a degree that extended visits to New Mexico and the Atlantic coast failed to bring relief, and she was compelled to relinquish her chosen profession, in which she had wrought with much interest and proficiency. She is now at home with happy kindred, enjoying the pleasures and comforts of farm life, among flowers, growing vegetation, and all the beauties of nature, which she delights to copy with pencil or brush.

III. HENRY ALBERT DIEHL was born on a farm near Leesburg, Indiana, Oct. 29, 1873. After passing through the graded and the high school, he took a course in the Agricultural Department of Purdue University, at Lafayette, Indiana. On June 2, 1894, he united in marriage with Lulu Maud Glant, who was born in West Milton, Miami County, Ohio. Two of their children were born at Leesburg before they moved to North Dakota, where the third one was born. Their postoffice address is Egeland, North Dakota.

Issue:

1. Ruth Marie, Dec. 13, 1894.
2. Miriam Alice, Dec. 30, 1897.
3. Earl Franklin, Oct. 22, 1902.

IV. MARY (MAE) DIEHL was born Sept. 2, 1875, near Leesburg, Indiana. Her education began in the country school at home, and closed with the completion of the course in the Indiana State Normal School, at Terre Haute, Indiana. After teaching several terms near home, she made the trip alone to Spokane, Washington, where she met her fiance, Rev. Heber M. Fried, whom she married, Aug. 1, 1905. Her husband graduated in Theology at Northwestern University, Chicago, preparatory to entering foreign missionary work, which both greatly desired, but impaired health from over-work and confinement drove him west with the hope of recuperating his health. He landed at Spokane, where he engaged in merchandising. He is very active in church work and with his sympathetic preaching, fine talent in vocal and instrumental music, reaches the hearts of the "down and out" class and foreign element, thus doing good home mission work.

V. CARL SANFORD DIEHL was born on the old home farm near Leesburg, Indiana, Feb. 6, 1883. His school education was by the rural school route, and a complete High School course. Added to this is his careful habit of reading the best current literature and agricultural journals, which leads one to a higher development and enjoyment of life. His transcontinental trip of several thousand miles, some years ago, proved a valuable source of knowledge to him in his chosen profession—agriculture. He is now managing his father's one hundred forty fertile acres with intelligence and success. This farm borders on the "Great Divide," which separates the waters flowing north into the Gulf of St. Lawrence from those flowing south, into the Gulf of Mexico, and on account of joint ownership by the parents, is named "Frank-Annaland."

JOHN ADAM (I), PETER (II), PETER (III), DANIEL (IV), MARTIN LOHR (V), SANFORD DAVID (VI).

I. SANFORD DAVID DIEHL was born near Fairfield, Pennsylvania, Dec. 17, 1856. At the age of sixteen, being bereft of his father several years, he pushed out westward, and landed at his Uncle E. F. Diehl's, Leesburg, Indiana. Here he worked on a farm, went to school, and began teaching. His ambitions soon outgrew the school room, and landed him down in New Mexico, where he was "boss" of a wrecking train on the Santa Fe railroad, from Albuquerque, New Mexico to El Paso, Texas. Later he discovered that it was safer and more pleasant sailing on the sea of matrimony than riding wrecking trains, and on Jan. 14, 1883, he married Ida Adele Orr, of Placer County, California, at San Marcial, New Mexico. They soon settled at Pilot Hill, California, the pioneer gold mining town of the state, near Sutter's sawmill site, where gold was first discovered, in 1848. Here he has made good in mining, merchandising, business, and in official positions. He is an efficient member of the board of supervisors of El Dorado County the past dozen years and its competent chairman eight years. He is serving Uncle Sam his sixteenth year as postmaster of his town. At present his friends are urging him to accept the office of county assessor, which carries a handsome salary, for four years. He has been a member of A. F. & A. M. thirty years and the I. O. O. F. some ten years, and with Mrs. Diehl and the daughters is identified with the O. E. S. Mrs. Diehl and the daughters are Christian Scientists.

III.

VALENTINE (I), JOHN LOUIS (II), EVA (III).

I. EVA DIEHL was born in Niederbromm, Germany, in 1836, and the same year came with her parents to Pittsburg, Pennsylvania and later to Mowrystown, Ohio, where she later married Fred Christman and moved to a farm near town. Ten children were born to them, seven of whom are living. Five are married and widely located. Charles J. and Mary are at home with their mother. Father Christman died March 18, 1911, at the age of 90.

II. LOUIS DIEHL was born near Mowrystown, Ohio, in 1838, and in 1860 he was a clerk in his Uncle Peter Diehl's store, at Woodsfield, Ohio, after which, in 1864, he was receiving clerk for the M. & C. R. R., at Cincinnati, Ohio, where his consins, C. P. and P. A. Wagner, were working in the same depot. In the meantime he married Lizzie Gwinner, of Arnheim, Ohio. Their only son, Louis, died in infancy. Mr. Diehl was a faithful Sunday School superintendent of St. Lucas Lutheran Church, on Third Street. He had a sunstroke which ended his life, July 27, 1868. Mrs. Diehl died just a few years ago.

III. ROSINA DIEHL was born near Mowrystown, Ohio, and at maturity married Henry Troutman (1833-Feb. 17, 1907). They always lived on a farm in this vicinity. Six of their nine children are yet living, five of them married and remotely located, and Lizzie, at home with her aged mother.

IV. FREDERICK DIEHL was born near Mowrystown, Ohio. In 1864 he relieved his brother Louis as clerk in their uncle's store at Woodsfield, where he has made good behind the counter fifty years, and still a live wire. Nov. 3, 1873, he married Lena Schumacher. In 1887 he quit the "American Shoe House" and went into the exclusive shoe trade. His son, Charles L., is now a partner, and the efficient manager of the "Diehl Shoe Company." They are devoted members of St. Paul Evangelical Church, faithful teachers in the Sunday School, of which they are regular attendants. Fred has been secretary and treasurer twenty years.

V. GEORGE HENRY DIEHL was born near Mowrystown, Ohio, May 11, 1845, and on Jan. 15, 1870, he and brother Christian left the farm and began a general store in Mowrystown. Nov. 26, 1874, he married Eva Schwallis, of Ash Ridge, Ohio. Mrs. Diehl passed into the higher life April 1, 1881, and the father and children moved in with Grandmother Diehl. Here George William, a member of the Presbyterian church and secretary of its Sunday School, who was verging into a useful and honorable manhood, succumbed to the dreaded diabetes and passed to his reward July 27, 1897, at the age of seventeen. Oct. 1, 1899, Grandmother Diehl, too, obeyed the summons of her Lord and Master, after a useful and well spent Christian life of four score and four years to come up higher. Feb. 15, 1900, Mr. Diehl and Josie moved into their present comfortable home on Diehl Avenue, enjoying the pleasures of an honorable and well spent life. He has retired after merchandising thirty-five years. For greater convenience in attending church, he transferred his membership from the Lutheran Church at Arnheim to the Presbyterian Church at Mowrystown in 1891. He has been chorister and Sunday School worker some forty-five years and an active Christian Endeavor worker. Has been present at Sunday School every Sunday for ten and a quarter years, on time—tardy but once. He is an elder, and clerk of the sessions.

Issue:

JOHANN HEINRICH (I), JOHANN CONRAD (II), JOHN PHILIP (III).

I. JOHN PHILIP DIEHL was born in Buffalo, New York, Feb. 4, 1837. When a young man he studied pharmacy, after which he became proprietor of a drug store on the corner of Main and Genessee Streets. Later his brother, Jacob W. Diehl, joined him and continued the business under the firm name of "J. P. & J. W. Diehl" until 1902, when both retired. He was in the drug business forty-four years, and by honorable and upright dealing made the plant the leading pharmacy in the city. His career was consistent, honorable, and useful, and he contributed a worthy share to the prosperity of Buffalo. He was systematic, persistent, and far-sighted in all his undertakings, and his success was the legitimate result of fair dealing and uniformly upright methods. At the time of his death, Jan. 15, 1908, he was vice-president and director of the German Insurance Company and the Buffalo Commercial Insurance Company, and director of the Savings Bank, all of Buffalo. He was a zealous and honorable member of the Masonic fraternity, being affiliated with Queen City Lodge, A. F. & A. M., also a Knight Templar, a member of Hugh DePayen Commandery. JOHANN HEINRICH (I), JOHANN CONRAD (II), CONRAD (III).

IV. HON. CONRAD DIEHL, M.D., was born in Buffalo, New York, July 17, 1843. He attended the public schools here and graduated from the University of Buffalo, with the degree of M.D., in 1866, and studied a year subsequently in the Universities of Goettingen and of Berlin, Germany. In 1868 he was elected coroner of Erie County, New York, by the Democratic party, of which he was a prominent but not very active member. In 1869, May 5, he married Caroline Trautman, of Steinseltz, Germany, where he was visiting the home of his mother, Magdalena Zimmerman-Diehl, in that hamlet.

He was major and surgeon of the 65th Regiment N. Y. S. N. G. from 1870 to 1878. For forty years he was on the attending and consulting staff of the Buffalo General Hospital, and is at the head of the staff of the Buffalo Deaconess Hospital. He has been chairman of the school board, member of the Civil Service Commission, and many other honorable positions. From 1897 to 1901 he was mayor of the city, and was the prime mover of the Pan-American Exposition, which was held in Buffalo in 1901 and attracted world-wide attention. It was at this Exposition that President McKinley was assassinated, and Mayor Diehl was one of the escorts of honor which accompanied the remains to Washington, D. C., and to Canton, Ohio, for burial.

He is still engaged in the practice of medicine, and is probably the best known physician in the city, having had an exceptionally large practice among the German-Americans.

JOHANN HEINRICH (I), JOHANN CONRAD (II), JOHN PHILIP (III), LAURA LOUISE (IV), MAURICE DIEHL (V).

I. MAURICE DIEHL COOPER was born in Buffalo, New York, April 5, 1887, and married Marion Hazel Lewis, daughter of

V. ELLJAH F. DIEHL (Jan. 25, 1853–July 3, 1899). He was the father of ten children, viz:

1. Arthur J. S., Port Republic, Virginia.
2. Mary S., Penn Laird, Virginia.
3. Ellen, Penn Laird, Virginia.
4. Otis, and 5, Benjamin, in Colorado.
6. Charles, in Ohio.
7. William, North River, Virginia.
8. Clark D. and 9, Hattie, Penn Laird, Virginia.

VI. JACOB P. DIEHL was born Oct. 8, 1859, and grew to manhood on a farm at Beard's Ford, on the North Branch of the Shenandoah river, just a few miles from the historic battle field of Port Republic, Virginia. He has very vivid recollections of many war incidents of that section. Soldiers of both Northern and Southern armies were never refused a meal if there was anything to eat in his father's house. Their best horses were taken and many barns full of grain and provender burned during General Sheridan's raid there, Oct. 5, 1864. Mr. Diehl married Martha Harshberger, Oct. 1, 1879. Nearly all these people are loyal members of the Church of the Brethren.
